Peita Royal | Plumberaround

We are excited to announce Coraggio Member, Peita Royal, Founder of Plumberound has been nominated as a finalist for this year's AusMumpreneur Awards.

The AusMumpreneur Awards are designed to support and acknowledge Australian mums in business, challenging the stereotypes and raising awareness regarding contributions women with young children invest to the Australian economy.

These nationally recognised awards have been running for the past 10 years. Presented by AusMumpreneur and The Women's Business School these awards recognise the best and brightest in the Australian mumpreneur industry, acknowledging success in business, product development & innovation and customer service.

Peita has been recognised across three categories incorporating; business service, business excellence and community service, which is undoubtedly a commendable effort.

Nominated by one of Brisbane's leading business leaders Peita has also received outstanding support from more than 100 influential community leaders and associates who voted for her.

Peita joined Coraggio with her business partner and husband Warwick, both co-owners of Plumberound, in 2015. Together they run their Brisbane based family plumbing business along with raising a blended family of six children between the ages 5-14 years.

In recent months due to COVID-19, Peita has had to adapt to working from home and stepping into the role of home schooling her children. During this time she has managed to juggle these new responsibilities with the determination of maintaining the business and retaining her staff.

A testament to Plumberounds success is their management to continue increase revenue streams throughout the pandemic and hiring new employees as a result of this growth.

Plumberound prides itself on their stoic internal culture and vision to be a local company you can trust. These accolades recognise the impact Peita has on both the business and the community. Coraggio recognises Plumberound's efforts and will continue to support their ongoing performance, productivity and substantiated growth. On behalf of the Coraggio family we congratulate Peita for continuing to be fearless.
