Kylie Chown | LinkedIn Consulting

coraggio.com.au

We are delighted that one of our Brisbane Coraggio members, Kylie Chown, was recently recognised by the Social Media Marketing Institute's annual awards as a finalist for best use of LinkedIn and best Social Media Educator.

The Social Media Marketing Institute is a membership, education and professional development organisation representing the Social Media Industry. They support social media marketers throughout their career by providing mentorship, training, conferences, awards, education and advisory.

These prestigious accolades demonstrates Kylie's ability to perform in this field across numerous social media platforms for clients as her market offering diversifies and goes from strength to strength.

Kylie is a LinkedIn Strategist, Trainer, Speaker and Coach. For more than 15 years, she has worked with a vast array of industry clients in Australia, USA and NZ, leveraging brand visibility and productive outcomes from their LinkedIn profiles.

As one of Australia's leading LinkedIn experts, Kylie is recognised for best use of LinkedIn in addition to being nominated for best Social Media Educator.

Coraggio CEO, Richard Skarzynski said, "This is very deserving industry recognition and we are proud to congratulate Kylie on her achievements and look forward to continue working with her to grow her business nationally, as well as internationally."

The best Social Media Educator award focuses on individuals who have made a significant contribution to the social media education area over the last few years, demonstrating leadership, consistently inspiring and motivating others and portraying the social media industry in a positive light.

The winner will be announced on the 8th of October, and the Coraggio team, and members wish Kylie the best of luck and continued success.
